

ANZAC DAY PACK

WHY DO WE ACKNOWLEDGE ANZAC DAY?

Over 100 years ago – 106 to be exact - soldiers from all over Australia and New Zealand went to help fight in a war across the ocean in Europe, Asia and Africa. A war is big fight between countries when they can't agree on something. The war where the ANZACs emerged was called the First World War. It lasted for 4 years.

The Australian soldiers became known as 'Diggers'. This is thought to be because of the trenches they dug during the war. Trenches are long and deep ditches dug into the ground where the soldiers lived and fought. The soldiers from Australia included Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders.

The New Zealand soldiers were called 'Kiwis' for their native bird. The soldiers from New Zealand included the Indigenous Maori people.

Medals were given to the soldiers who fought in the war. These are often handed down from generation to generation and are worn on ANZAC Day.

War is very sad, as people get hurt, and sometimes killed. Many places get destroyed. People can lose their friends, pets, homes and things. Sadly, countries do have trouble agreeing with each other and there have been other wars.

After the war ended in Europe, the first flowers that started to grow where the fighting had been were red poppies.

On ANZAC Day we remember all the people who went to war to make our world a safer place.
